Invisible Light

JUNG is the winner of the 2020 opencall for artists, and this exhibition is her debut solo exhibition in the USA. Total of twenty-seven oil paintings will be unveiled.

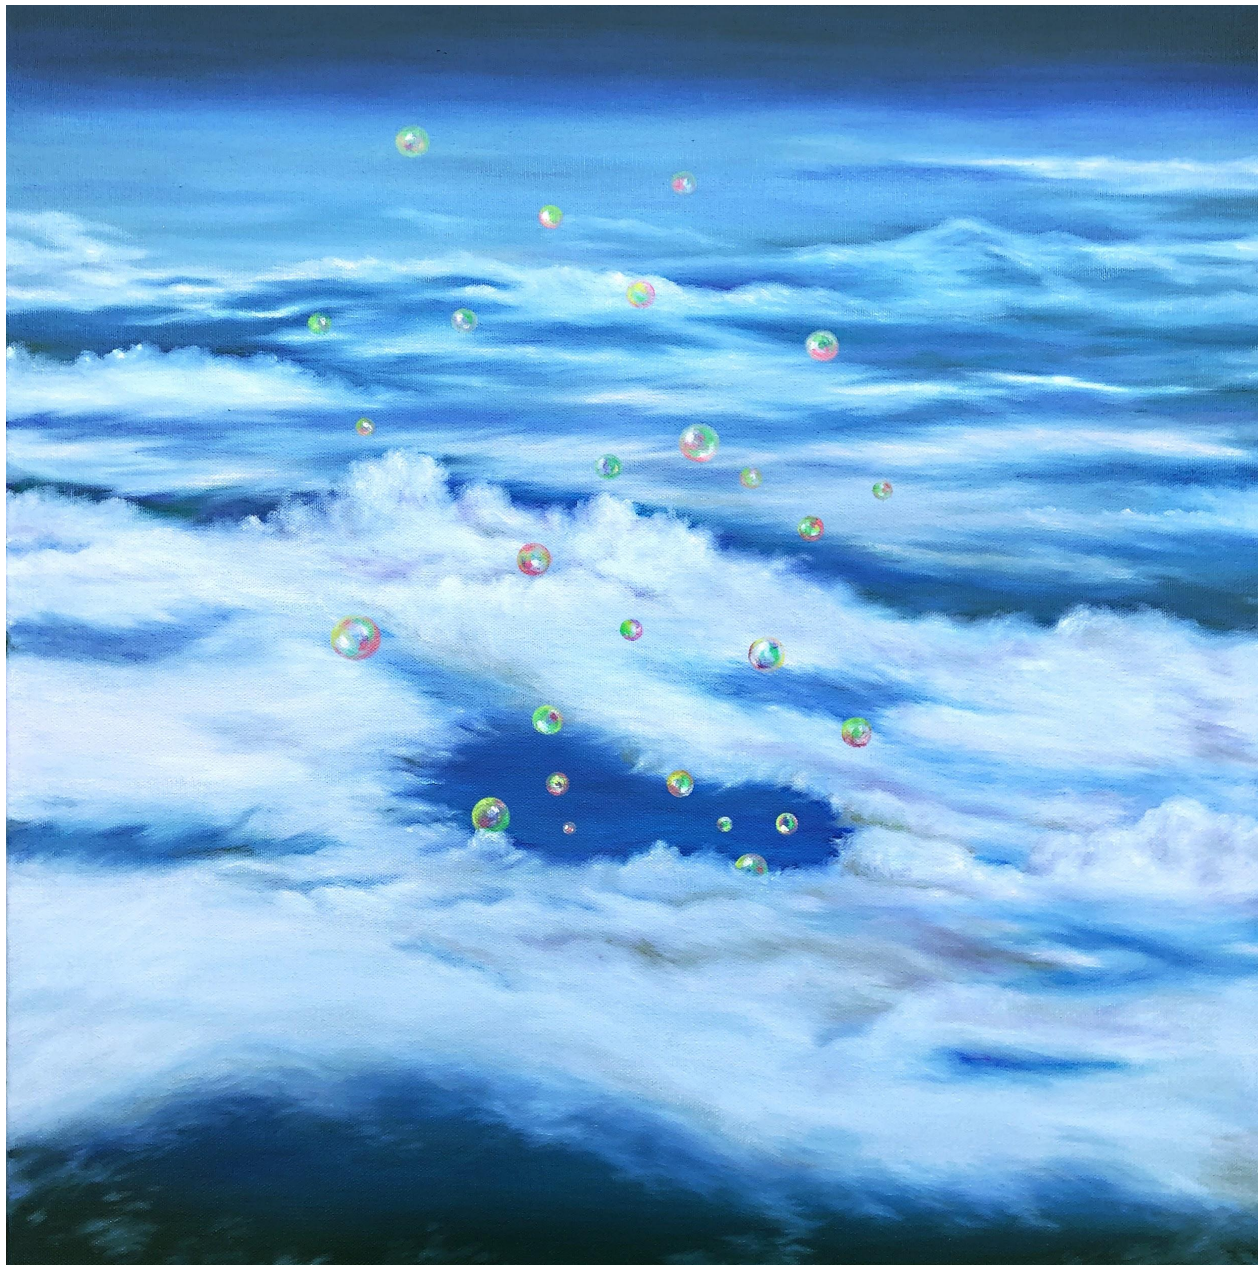

Light is one of the key facts in JUNG's painting in order to visualized dreaming objects such as clouds, landscapes, houses, animals, and others. Even though we cannot see the light directly, we can see all through the reflection of the light. JUNG's light lits her surrealistic, fairytale style, and very subtle landscapes where would be very private and the best place ever, the artist dreams for all her life. There is an exact direction of the light and boundary of the light in paintings. Even the light is visible in her painting, the painting itself is non-real nor the landscapes do not exist. JUNG's painting is a fairytale without writing and her light in the painting is invisible light in real life. What are you dreaming and where's your invisible light to lit your dream?
